Dear ACS members,

We are very, VERY happy to let you know that our co-edited book 'Architecture, Culture, and Spirituality' had been released by Ashgate Press.

We have created a website to help spread the word. Below is the link where you can learn more about the book. If you know of somebody that could be interested in the volume, please send them the link.

<http://www.acsforum.org/book/index.htm>

This effort crowns a path that started back in April 2007 with the creation of our Forum for Architecture, Culture and Spirituality, a group that now has over 400 members from 46 countries. And, of course, this is a success shared not only by all the ACS authors in the book but also by all of you members of this remarkable and unique gathering of people. None of this would have happened without you being there.

May this humble effort help to advance the understanding and practice of architecture and all its allied disciplines.

May we never forget that architecture and design schools are not just places for teaching but also environments for intelligent, courageous, and passionate questioning, arguing, envisioning, experimentation, and more, much more ...

Cheers!

Thomas Barrie, Julio Bermudez, and Phillip Tabb
Co-editors of 'Architecture, Culture, and Spirituality'
